Reflections From Fr. Robert Carlton: Good Friday

As we start another Holy Week and Triduum, a good challenge for us can be to try and genuinely reflect upon in our prayer what each of these days really represents and what message the Gospel writers are trying to impart in their representations of them. To do this, it can be helpful to read, to the extent possible, commentaries or some scholarly material on the readings. Otherwise, it is very easy to miss the deeper meaning and the richness of the passages.

This is true for all the days of Holy Week but especially, I think, for Good Friday. One of the challenges with the story of Good Friday is that it can be reduced too easily to simply "Jesus died for our sins," which is something that Catholics are told so many times that it probably loses most of its meaning. However, if this was all that there was to the story, then the Gospel writers likely would not have spent so much time telling it and may very well have left out several details that are included in those stories.

From my perspective, one detail that appears to be very significant in this story, and one that may have been left out and is often overlooked, is that of the figure of Barabbas. John's Gospel makes a passing reference to Barabbas, pointing out simply that he was a revolutionary and that the crowd wanted him released over Jesus. This would seem a rather curious choice unless one knew more of the details about Barabbas. Indeed, if you were to read the story in the other Gospels (particularly in Matthew), there are more details given about Barabbas. His name is not just Barabbas but is rather Jesus Barabbas, which means fully Jesus son of the father, as opposed to Jesus of Nazareth, the son of the Father. Mark and Luke in their Gospels also point out that Barabbas was someone who was involved in a riot, which probably means that he was involved in trying to overthrow the Roman government. In addition to this, the leaders of the community, "the chief priests and the elders" were urging the people in the crowd to ask for Barabbas to be released.

So, to do what St. Ignatius would have suggested with a story such as this, place yourself in the crowd in this story and imagine you are faced with the same choice that the crowd was. On one hand, there is Jesus Barabbas, a figure who at least attempted to try and do something against the Roman government, striving to bring a better life to the people in the here and now. On the other hand, there is Jesus of Nazareth, who did not stand up to the Romans in the same way. This kind of choice is still with us today: as the Pope has talked about, do you follow the ones who worship power, status and money or follow the one who states we should trust in God over material things? If you were in the crowd, what would you decide and why specifically might you choose Jesus of Nazareth over Jesus Barabbas? There are no easy answers to this choice or these questions except to say that the Gospel writers are getting at a lot more here than simply that Jesus died for our sins. - Fr. Robert

Welcome To Mrs. McMorrow's 4 Year Old Preschool Class

Over the course of the past couple of weeks, we have been discussing the Season of Spring. An important message the children have learned during that time, was that we grow as Children of God, with God as our root. The stem represents our parents and family members, the leaves are our community and their handprint is the beautiful flower God has created.

Mrs. Mahoney's First Grade Class

Mrs. Mahoney's first grade class has been learning about the Seven Sacraments. As a class, we started studying about the First Sacrament of Baptism. Our students enjoyed learning about their own Baptism by creating a poster to commemorate this special moment in their lives.

Pontifical Good Friday Collection

Pope Francis has asked our parish to support the Pontifical Good Friday Collection, which helps Christians in the Holy Land. Your support helps the church minister in parishes, provide Catholic schools and offer religious education. This special collection also helps to preserve the sacred shrines. Christians in the Holy Land were hit particularly hard during the pandemic as most of them depend on pilgrimages to work. In these times of crisis, the Pontifical Good Friday Collection is also necessary to meet the basic needs of the People of God still living in this Land where the Church was born. When you contribute to the Pontifical Good Friday Collection, you become an instrument of peace and join with Catholics around the world in solidarity with the Church in the Holy Land. Please be generous (if you are able.) For more information about Christians in the Holy Land, please visit: www.myfranciscan.org/good-friday.

Gospel Meditation - Encourage a Deeper Understanding of Scripture

Pope St. John Paul II rightly taught, "To believe in Jesus is to accept what he says, even when it runs contrary to what others are saying. It means rejecting the lure of sin, however attractive it may be, in order to set out on a difficult path of Gospel virtues."

Acceptance, rejection, suffering, betrayal, fear, reluctance, persecution, and painful, undeserved and unjust death are all played out in dramatic fashion today. Jesus spoke of God's unconditional love, mercy, and forgiveness. Who doesn't like hearing about love, especially God's? Jesus did not have backs turned on him, face intense suffering, and succumb to a horrific death because he spoke of God's love. All of those things occurred because of the implications of actually believing in God's love.

God's love comes with an intimate and equal bond with love of neighbor. This moves the believer outward to truly see their brothers and sisters as equals and compels them to work for a world that mirrors God's kingdom: a world based on justice, peace, mercy, and forgiveness. Sometimes, people want to keep God's love to themselves and use it solely for their own benefit. When they only want to use God's love to justify their own intentions and for their own projects, problems occur.

Sin makes something hurtful, destructive, and self-serving look very attractive and justifiable. The lure of sin creates friends who begin to believe the lie that the sin expounds. This is what happened on Calvary. When you begin actually doing what Jesus is saying and translate love into action, it inevitably will upset popular and longstanding conventions and structures. Many of these serve to protect status, foster personal gain and success, and further divide those who have from those who do not. Most people who hear the Gospel are attracted to what they hear, at first. When they realize that it means standing apart from popular opinion, even if that opinion is against the Gospel and sinful, they cower back in fear and join the throngs shouting, "Crucify him!" There is an ambivalence found in many believers as they struggle with whether their belief is strong enough "to set out on the difficult path of Gospel virtues." It takes a lot of courage to admit that the system is broken. It takes even more courage to point out the sin. And it takes an unbreakable love of God to then accept the consequences of doing so. ©LPi
