Respect Life Month: The Baby Bottle Project

In October, the Catholic Church in the United States celebrates Respect Life Month, with the first Sunday designated as Respect Life Sunday.

“We proclaim that human life is a precious gift from God; that each person who receives this gift has responsibilities toward God, self and others; and that society, through its laws and social institutions, must protect and nurture human life at every stage of its existence.”

United States Conference of Catholic Bishops

One specific way IC parish will support pro-life values during this month is by again participating in the Baby Bottle Project, a major fundraiser for The Women’s Centers (www.gotwc.org). Over the next few weeks, you can help this organization save lives from abortion by taking a baby bottle (or multiple bottles) and filling each with spare change, currency or checks.

Bottles are available in our Vestibule at all Masses this weekend, and can also be picked up in our Parish Office.

All donations should be returned to our Church by Sunday, October 15th.

Third Grade Fun In Room 16 With Mrs. Fritz

The beginning of the school year brings a new classroom, new teacher, new classmates and new learning experiences. Our students in Mrs. Fritz's Third Grade class have been enjoying discovering all of the new third grade things! One big feature in third grade are hands-on Science activities. So far, this group has completed two hands-on challenges and cannot wait for the next one!

The first challenge was a timed challenge in which students worked together in groups. Each group was given the same materials with the challenge to create the longest paper chain possible using only the supplies provided: two pieces of paper, a 12 inch piece of tape, a ruler and scissors. Students had to come up with a plan, execute their idea and complete the challenge within 20 minutes. The longest chain was measured at 144 inches! It was great to see all of the creative thinking and clever engineering that went into this task!

The second challenge was called "Saving Fred", which served as another group challenge. Our students were faced with "saving Fred," a gummy worm whose boat had capsized and who could not swim. Students had to get Fred into a life preserver (gummy life saver) and back into his boat using only four paperclips, no hands! This challenge was a tricky one, but most groups were able to achieve success!

Finally, all classes at IC are participating in Morning Circles to facilitate effective social emotional learning throughout our school. During Morning Circles, students are able to discuss, share and learn about ways to be the best they can be and foster a sense of community and caring.

We are looking forward to all the learning that will happen this year!

Gospel Meditation: Encourage A Deeper Understanding Of Scripture - Fr. John Muir

A life-long Catholic friend of mine recently mumbled to me, "I can't stand all these converts to the faith. They're always rocking the boat." It surprised me because he is dedicated to evangelization, and yet he struggles with openness to new Catholics. It made me realize how easily I close my heart to those whom I perceive to be outsiders who become new members of the Catholic community. Almost unconsciously I reduce the world to the categories of "us" and "them." The result is that meaningful community silently shrinks in my life. Don't we all do that to some degree?

This week Jesus' punchy parable about the two sons blows up that black and white world. One son said he wouldn't get to work, and then did. The other said he would, and then he did not. "Which did the will of his father?" asks the Lord. Like so many of us, in identifying the first as the answer, the religious authorities manifest hidden hypocrisy in refusing to follow Jesus. They – like us – intuit the correct path but simply won't do it. The tax collectors and prostitutes are indeed following Jesus and thereby getting to work in the kingdom of God. Everyone is called to do God's will regardless of the labels we may apply to them.

This week let's reject the convenient but damaging categories of "insiders" and "outsiders." Instead, let's embrace a grateful attitude that Jesus is calling fallen, weak, and broken men and women like you and me. Then we begin to see that the tax collectors and prostitutes aren't them. They are us. And Jesus wants all of us working in his boat, no matter the rocking. ©LPi

(Practicing) Catholic: Recognize God In Your Ordinary Moments. - Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

The Vineyard...

The second son never showed up to the vineyard. Did he get lost? Did he get tired? Did he not know where to begin? When it comes right down to it, good intentions amount to very little. We all know this, don't we? "Show me, don't tell me." "I'll believe it when I see it." It's as true in the workplace and in relationships as it is in the life of the Christian disciple.

It doesn't matter if we intend to work in the vineyard. It doesn't matter if we promise to, if we think about it a lot, or if we make grand plans for what we will accomplish there. None of that matters if we don't show up. Before we show up, we have to find the way.

Showing up is the whole point. The work is the point, not the intention. But all this begs the question: what does the work mean for us as baptized Catholics in the modern world? Spending our Saturdays in soup kitchens and homeless shelters? Standing on a street corner shouting out the words of the Gospel?

Our baptismal call is to the vineyard. Where is our vineyard? How do we show up? We are ready, Lord, we say. We intend to work. But where do we go?

My vineyard is not your vineyard, and so it's not my place to tell you how to get there. I am glad you want to go, but you'll have to find your own way, just like I will. But I can tell you this: only one voice will lead you there. If you listen to it, you will find your vineyard.

"Good and upright is the LORD; thus he shows sinners the way." - Psalm 25:8

For he will command his angels concerning you to guard you in all your ways.
